Where has the time gone! It is hard to believe that the school term is coming to a close. It seems like yesterday when the students walked through the doors excited, scared, curious as to what their new day was going to be about. Now they are old pros at preschool. Ready and eager to learn what we throw their way, new friendships, new skills, smiling faces, laughs and giggles. Good times for all. What an honor and joy to be able to share so many experiences with your children this year, thank you for the opportunity to watch them grow and learn. No greater satisfaction gained then when a child learns something new for the first time, the sense of pride and joy on their young faces warms your heart. We look forward to the fall when school begins again to see how much they have grown over the summer. Have a safe and happy summer.
